BOARD OF TRADE'S PLAIN TALK

Resume of Matters Transacted at the Meeting--Reports of Committees Received and Officers Nominated.
Death of Mrs. Henry F. Ziegler.

What was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm at the monthly meeting last night of the South Side board of trade. At the suggestion of C.
G. Boland a very remarkable step was taken. Mr. Boland began his remarks by thanking Heaven that congress had adjourned. The present industrial condition of the country is so fearfully wretched that if a change does not come soon it is difficult to foresee what the end will be. Mr. Boland moved and Mr. Moore seconded the motion that a committee of three be appointed to formulate a pronouncement that will let the people of the city know that the South Side board of trade is not in sympathy with the industry-wrecking and panic-spreading congress that has just gone out of existence.

On that committee the chairman appointed Messrs. Boland, O'Toole and Spruks, three staunch Democrats in principal.

Mr. Scheuer on behalf of the special sewer committee reported that the members had approved the end for which the committee was formed, namely the securing of a sewer for the South Side.

Secretary O'Toole presented a resolution commending the efforts of Select Councilman Coyne of the Twentieth ward in his efforts to have Palm street opened for traffic. Mr. Moore of the manufacturers' committee made a report relative to the Honesdale Iron works. He said that the time has not yet arrived to launch out into a full report, but he assured the members that this industry would come to Scranton and locate on the South Side.

Mr. Boland stated that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company would soon make the proposed change at the Mattes street bridge. The following nominations of officers were made: President, C. G.
Boland; vice-president, Henry J.
Spruks; secretary, M. J. O'Toole; treasurer, Michael Miller. An election will take place at the next meeting.

Death of Henry F. Ziegler.
The death of Mrs. Henry J. Ziegler, of Cedar avenue, occurred yesterday morning after an illness that had affected her for some time. She was believed by her numerous friends and acquaintances, and in her death, at the age of 24, her husband lost a wife of noble character, and the circle in which she moved will miss her happy inspiration and cheerfulness. She was married less than two years ago, and then had the prospects of a long and devoted life. No children are yet born. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Shorter Paragraphs.

George Phillips, of Philadelphia, is visiting friends on Stone avenue.

Rev. Anthony Durkin, of the Passionate Order, is visiting his parents on Brook street.

Mark Sayer and Michael Lavelle, of this side, are said to be fortunate in being related to a wealthy citizen of Brooklyn, who died recently. They expect to share a portion of a $200,000 fortune.

Caspar Schaf, a respected resident of the South Side, died at his home, 813 Pittston avenue, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The time of the funeral has not been decided upon by the family.

Jacob Mingle, of Maple street, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock with a high mass of requiem at St. Mary's German Catholic church.
Interment will be made in the Twentieth Ward German Catholic cemetery.

Tribune adlets bring fine returns; they cost only a cent-a-word.

NORTH END NOTES.

avenue, is visiting relatives in Clark's Summit.

Rev. D. M. Kinter, of Main avenue, expects to return home today from Columbia county.

Rev. W. G. Watkins will preach a sermon in the North Main Avenue Baptist church tomorrow on "Odd Fellowship." The Celestial, Lincoln and Hiram lodges will be present in a body.

John J. Morgan, of Wales street, was painfully burned on the back and arms yesterday morning while at work in the Leggett Creek shaft by powder, which ignited from a spark that fell from his lamp.

David J. Davis, of Parker street, died in the Lackawanna hospital yesterday morning about 7 o'clock of pleuro-pneumonia. He was born in Glamorganshire, South Wales, about thirty-five years ago and has been a resident of this country for nearly fifteen years.
He is survived by a wife and seven children, the oldest of which is a girl about 14 years of age. He was well known, having been an active member in the Welsh Baptist church, also of Tonduka tribe, No. 72, of the Independent Order of Red Men. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon.

vertising in The Tribune.

railroaders and takes an interest in the draughting class, of which he is a member.

AUTHOR OF "A MODERN HEATHEN."

The Famous Southern Novelist, Mrs. E. Burke Collins, Tells of Her Complete Recovery from Nervous Debility by the Use of Paine's Celery Compound.

The London Graphic, in its recent summing up of the half dozen successful novels of the year, includes with Du Maurier's "Tribby," Hall Caine's
"Manxman," Conan Doyle's "Sherlock Holmes," "The Heavenly Twins," and "Ships that Pass in the Night," Mrs. E.
Burke Collins' "A Modern Heathen."

Speaking of this last work of our distinguished southern author, the Graphic says:

"What Geo. W. Cable's writings are to the Creoles of New Orleans, Miss Murrell to the rough strata of humanity among the Tennessee mountains, and Gertrude Atherton to California, Mrs. E. Burke Collins are to the Acad-ians of the Louisiana Pine Lands. In her latest work Mrs. Collins has struck a new vein in literature, opening to the novel reading world a vision of the real life of the Acadians of the backwoods, among the wild, scarcely known region of the bayous and swamps of Louisiana."

Besides her novels she contributes each week short stories, sketches, etc., to the prominent magazines and to a great variety of other publications.
Although her writing has always been a labor of love, yet such incessant mental exertion, constantly harvesting the ideas of her brain without a single idle season or fallow time for rest and refreshment, could not fail to have its effect on the recuperative power of her nervous system. At one time she found herself tired out and weak from such uninterrupted work; she became nervous and incapable of work; she even saw nervous prostration staring her in the face. The general toning up that her system needed so badly she found in Paine's celery compound. Today she is perfectly well and strong again, busy as ever with her brain and pen, and grateful to Paine's celery compound for the timely help when failure and trouble and despair seemed about to close round her and shut her off from everything that was dear to her. She says:

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 21, 1894.
I wish to add my mite to the thousands of testimonials which you have received in regard to the efficacy of this wonderful compound. In my profession of author, such a strengthening medicine is invaluable. I have just completed my 5th novel, and constant work at the desk had weakened my constitution, injured my nerves, and I suffered from general debility. When a person in that condition writes continually, living in the realm of fiction and romance, the effect upon the nervous system is lamentable. I was weak and debilitated, suffered from insomnia, and was irritable and nervous. Four bottles of Paine's celery compound gave me strength, quieted my nerves, and brought sleep to my pillow. I owe lasting gratitude to this wonderful medicine, and I take pleasure in adding mine to the long list of testimonials.

Yours gratefully,
Mrs. E. Burke Collins.

319 Valence St.

Paine's celery compound is found to best supply the great need of studious, sedentary people. Its extensive use by brain workers, both men and women, suffering from sleeplessness, indigestion, or other effects of a deficient nerve force, shows its ability to feed tired, emaciated, nervous tissues. Nothing else has ever possessed anything like the power of Paine's celery compound to restore a healthy nervous tone to the entire body and to thoroughly cleanse the blood. School teachers, professional men, newspaper men, ministers, public officials, men whose daily outlay of vitality, because of hard, trying, anxious work, is excessive, find renewed strength, not only of the nerves, but, through their healthy action, of the entire body, in Paine's celery compound. Its use shortly dispels headaches, rheumatic pain, dyspepsia, heart trouble, general debility and languor, and all other outward signs of the grave mischief that comes from disordered nerves and impure blood.
